ANATHAS CROSSES ARIZONA ON ROESE-BACK.

A gentleman who said he had just prossed Arizona on horseback, found publican reporter, who in a very short space of time reduced to writing rumor does not state. an infinite deal of gammon and many bald-faced stories concerning this Territory, its people, Gen. Crook and the is amusing to Arisonans whose knowl- militia with arms. bage of the persons and things treated of is sufficiently clear to take and and a half columns, which appeared ing Mount Vernon. in that paper of the 28th ult. under startling head lines, with a view of anduring the reader to mentally wade through worse than a hardshell Baptist sermon of the whang-doodle order. As an illustration we will give a single quotation in order that the reader may judge of the leavened lump of "A Traveler's Tale." So prick up Crook had been in charge of the Apaches (Chiricahuas) they would have been self-supporting by this time. I have seen their farms with my own eyes, and I tell you they showed a wonderful amount of work, and all of it done with the poorest kind of implements-pocket knives, sticks hardened in the fire and such.' not mean hoes, plows and other agri- of saloons is now only one for every cultural tools which are the imple- thirty-two inhabitants, and some men ments furnished the Apaches by the bave to walk two blocks for a drink. government.

After this exhibition of unalloyed humor, it becomes a matter of interest has been appointed general superin to know when the "traveler on horse- tendent of the Territorial fair at Phœback across Arizona" will resume the mix. The Record-Epitaph endorses narrative of his journey, and again him as a suitable person for the posiafford Arizonans an opportunity to tion. laugh at his jokes.

Since writing the above, we have deemed it necessary to directly clinch as a lie the statement that "a cattle is evidenced by the fact that she spent ring leased a large corner of the San $45,000 for church and school pur-Carlos reservation." There is not poses and only $6,484,900 for liquor, even a shadow on which to build a during the year 1884. statement to that effect. A close reading of "A Traveler's Tale," must convince any one that it eminates from a military source, and is especially intended to glorify Crook, as he is the burthen of the writer's song.

The world moves, as is evidenced by the fact that for the first time in the history of the United States, a President will be called upon to defend his official acts in court. Gen. Ben Butler and other cattle Barons, feeling themselveg agrieved by Clevelaud's proclamation to vacate the Indian range band, who got 100 lashes within forty days, applied to Judge Miller, of the Supreme Court, for a restraining order, as a preliminary step to a suit, which if denied, is sure to take shape in another form as Ben is fertile in expedients and of bulldog tenseity. When once in court he is sure to make things lively for Grover Cleveland.

H. C. Burchard, late a director of the U.S. mint, places the production of gold and silver in Arizona during the years 1881-82-83-84 at $28,505,000. In 1885 the production was slightly below those figures, while the present year is expected to be in excess of 1882, the largest output of any of the former enumerated years. Copper, one of Arizona's largest metallurgic factors, if added to the gold and silver production, would render the value of her output astonishingly large.
